STATES LAND OFFICE,
CARSON CITY, NEVADA
October 22, 1900.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT THE State of Nevada, under the Act of Congress approved June 16, 1893, (25 Stat., 257), has filed in the United States Land Office, at Carson City, Nevada, list No. 233 of lands selected under said Act, and has applied for a patent for said lands; that a part of said list is open to the public for inspection, and a copy thereof, by descriptive sub-divisions, has been posted in a convenient place in said United States Land Office for the inspection of all persons interested and the public generally.

Within the next sixty days following the date of this notice protests or contests against the claim of said State of Nevada to any tract or sub-division described in the list, on the ground that the same is more valuable for mineral than agricultural purposes, will be received and noted by the Register and Receiver of the United States Land Office at Carson City, Nevada, for report to the General Land Office at Washington, D. C.

The following are the sub-divisions described, to-wit:
SW 1/4 of SW 1/4, Section 29, T. 19 N., R. 18 E., M. D. M., containing 40 acres.
E. D. KELLEY,
State Land Register of the State of Nevada.

Not Piety, b

The following bit of nonconformist humor is taken from "The Farringtons," an English romance. The speakers are Mrs. Bateson and Mrs. Han-key, worthy wives, but not altogether above feeling a certain pleasure in showing up the ways of husbands:

"They're no sense, men haven't," said Mrs. Hankey; "that's what's the matter with them."

"You never spoke a truer word, Mrs.
Hankey," replied Mrs. Bateson. "The very best of them don't properly know the difference between their souls and their stomachs, and they fancy they are a-wrestling with their doubts when really it is their dinners that are a-wrestling with them."

"Now, take Bateson himself," continued Mrs. Bateson. "A kinder husband or better Methodist never drew breath, yet so sure as he touches a bit of pork he begins to worry himself about the doctrine of election till there's no living with him. And then he'll sit in the front parlor and engage in prayer for hours at a time till I say to him:

"Bateson," says I, 'I'd be ashamed to go troubling the Lord with a prayer when a pinch of carbonate of soda would set things straight again!'"

They Struck It Rich.

It was a grand thing for this community that such an enterprising firm as S. J. Hodgkinson secured the agency for Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, the wonderful remedy that has startled the world by its marvelous cures. The furor of enthusiasm over it has boomed their business, as the demand for it is immense. They give free trial bottles to sufferers, and positively guarantee it to cure Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, Croup, and all Throat and Lung Troubles. A trial proves its merit. Price 50cets. and $1.00

Astounded The Editor.

Editor S. A. Brown, of the Bennetts-prised. "Through long suffering from Dyspepsia," he writes, "my wife was greatly run down. She had no strength or vigor and suffered great distress from her stomach, but she tried Electro Bitters which helped her at once, and, after using four bottles, she is entirely well, can eat anything. It's a grand tonic, and its gentle laxative qualities are splendid for torpid liver." For indigestion, loss of Appetite, Stomach and Liver troubles it's a positive, guaranteed cure. Only 50 cents a bottle. S. J. Hodgkinson's Drug Store.

FRIDAY NOVEMBER 9, 1900

COMMERCIALISM LIKE FEUDALISM

Could we see into the future that we might understand the result of the present upon the future in the election of McKinley, we would learn, through the workings of cause and effect, it is for the best that the campaign of 1900 should close in the election of McKinley as President. The commercial forces that are at work at this time are akin to the forces of feudalism during the dark ages. William the Conqueror took into England the feudal system in the eleventh century, and applied it through force and statute law. It became engrafted upon the English system of jurisprudence and through the subsequent colonial system of that country, any remaining portions of the system became defaced more or less over the later occupied portions of the world by the white race.

Through the application of English law to our system we have received a knowledge of its history and workings we could not otherwise have acquired.
The knowledge received of the system by us will aid us very materially to make intelligent comparisons between the feudal and commercial systems.
Through these comparisons we will be better prepared to meet like encroachments upon the rights of the individual citizen, as were made through the feudal system upon the subject, which encroachments made him a slave subject to sale with the land he occupied under his lord.

The same means have been adopted to apply the commercial system of slavery that were used to apply the feudal system of slavery, which is force linked with statute law. The methods used to apply the means were more cruel than any means at any time applied to secure the obedience of the negro to the American system of slavery. There was at the time, and there continues to be, an excuse furnished for the submission of the people of England to the Conqueror. They had been overcome by military force and continued to be largely subject to that force while feudal slavery was forced upon them.

When the system had been applied it required centuries to remove it.
The force used by the Conqueror was different from the force in general use by commercialism to the present.
Military force has been applied in some instances when it could have been dispensed with, but there is in commercialism a general tendency to military power to enforce obedience to its will, which in due time will be secured to overawe any disobedience to its will, or to the will of organized monied power, while it enslaves and robs the people.

When military force is secured through a standing army, if the part is a guide to a correct judgement respecting the future, it will be freely applied to secure the ends commercialism has in view which will in its application equal the methods of the conqueror when he was applying feudal slavery to the people of England. The last three decades, the people without knowledge and without understanding of its import, have witnessed a gradual increase of the overbearing power of commercialism, but the power has been circumscribed in its application to individual citizens who made protests against its injustice and growing arrogance.

The methods used were confined to the action of bosses aided by ignorant men whose moral natures were not overflowing in good deeds from a high development of the better principles there are in the race. The boss system is no more equal to the demands of commercialism, and a military system is required to aid and sustain the boss system, when the application of the commercial slave system will be made more general and for that cause more strong to secure a submission of the people to a more general and severe oppression.

Commercialism acted first through bosses to secure its ends, which were largely secured through the corrupt use of money and through the oppression of individual citizens. The boss system is not now equal to its requirements and it has enlarged its system by acting directly upon the whole people to secure its purposes, which purposes continue to be secured through the corrupt use of money. In all of its work it has had the aid of the Republican party to which it has a deed in fee simple. In its early history it would occasionally boast about its intelligence, but it has not been heard at any time to make any claim to wisdom.

THE LOCAL PROSPECTS

What the Prospectors and Min- ers Are Doing in the Hills Around Reno.

The Chase & Morton mine on Peavine is producing a splendid quality of telluride ore.

A considerable quantity of ore is being taken from the Reno Star mine which is 15 per cent silver.

Re-organization of the smelter company will cause an increase in prospecting and mining activity.

The honest miners are drifting back into the hills, having cast their votes almost to a man for the lost cause.

The U. M. Slater Mining Company is negotiating for a diamond drill with which to prospect its ground in Wedekind district.

At a depth of 23 feet the ledge in the Rabbit's Foot claim on Dugskin averages up 18.8 per cent copper, together with fair gold and silver values.

MINES AND MINING

News of Nevada's Leading In- dustry Clipped From Exchanges.

The first payment has been made on the Chabman mine at Elly, White Pine county, which was recently sold to eastern capitalists.

About twenty men are now employed on the Pilot Knob group of copper mines in Ely district, White Pine county, which is being actively developed by Denver capitalists.

B. L. Smith, who went to Salt Lake City this week, made the necessary arrangements for listing the stock of the Rocco-Homestake-Nevada Mining Co. on the Salt Lake stock exchange.

The Sutro tunnel is being wired for the purpose of furnishing incandescent lights for the Zigzag drift, and also to furnish power for running an air compressor to furnish air for the miners working in the face of the drift.—Report.

Sol Hilp informs us that he and his partners, Messrs. Sadler, Wren, Oheney and Jackson will today draw down the final payment of $2,000 on the Star and Star of the West copper mines, which were bonded about one year ago to M. Martin of New York for the sum of $10,000.—White Pine News.

Astounded The Editor.

Editor S. A. Brown, of the Bennetteville, S. C., was once immensely surprised. "Through long suffering from
from her stomach, but she tried Electric Bitters which helped her at once,
and, after using four bottles, she is entirely well, can eat anything. It's a
qualities are splendid for torpid liver." For indigestion, loss of Appetite, Stomach and Liver troubles it's a positive, guaranteed cure. Only 50 cents a bottle. S. J. Hodgkinson's Drug Store.

They Struck It Rich.

munity that such a sensational find as
S. J. Hodgkinson secured the agency
for Dr. King's New Discovery for Con-
cures. The furor of enthusiasm over
free trial bottles to sufferers, and positively guarantee it to cure Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, Croup, and all
proves its merit. Price 50cts. and $1.00

She'd Had Enough.

There was a colored baptizing at Sandy Bottom, Billville. The last convert to go under the water was an old colored woman, who all the while had been seated in a rickety buggy drawn by an ancient mule who had been through the civil war.

She came up out of the water all right, but after proceeding a short distance on her way home the mule became unmanageable and upset the buggy in the middle of a deep creek.

The old woman, with drenched garments, clung to a "foot log" just as the person who had recently baptized her rode up.

He heard her swearing at the refractory mule in vigorous terms; then, taking her in his own buggy and driving to dry land, he said:

"Sister Cal'ine, you hez done los' all de salvation what come ter you by de fust baptism; so you must stop right beah en be baptized over eragin."

"No, suh!" was the reply. "I ain't gwine in dat water no mo'! Didn't dat ole mule baptize me de secon' time?"—

Easy For Him.

"You understand, of course," pursued the lawyer, "what is meant by a 'preponderance of evidence?'"

"Yes, sir," replied the man whom he was examining with reference to his qualifications as a juror.

"Let me have your idea of it, if you please."

"I understand it, I tell you."

"Well, what is it?"

"Why, anybody can understand that."

"I would like to have your definition of it."

"I know what it is, all right. When I tell you I know what a thing is, I know it. That's all there is about that."

"Well, what was the question I asked you?"

"You ought to know what that was.
If you've forgot your own questions, don't try to get me to remember them for you."

"I don't want to hear any more of that kind of talk," interposed the court.
"Answer the questions addressed to you by the counsel."

"Judge, I did. He asked me if I knew what it was, and I said I did."

"Are you sure you understand what is meant by the term 'preponderance of evidence?'"

"Of course I am, judge."

"Well, let us hear your idea of it."

"It's evidence previously pondered!"

English Red Tape.

At the present time, when the system of red tape is being attacked and ridiculed, the following somewhat amusing methods of dealing with matters are still adopted in one of the great government departments.

For instance, a hairbrush and comb must be purchased under the head of service "clothing," whereas a toothbrush is under "fuel" and spectacles under "medicines." A clothesbasket is "clothing," but clothes pegs are "incidentals." The funniest of all, however, are guano and straw, they being purchased under "victualing."

A good instance of red tape is told in connection with the excise. An officer had entered in the inquiry column of his return: "March 13. Dog dead." This did not satisfy his superior, who told him to inquire again, which the obedient officer did, recording: "April 10. Dog still dead."—London Standard.

Encouraged to Hope.

When the Empress Frederick, eldest daughter of Queen Victoria, was a little girl, her disposition, to the great grief of the queen, was haughty and arrogant. Once, when about to embark on the royal yacht Victoria and Albert, she was lifted across to the deck of the boat by one of the sailors, who, as he was putting her down gently, said, "There you are, my little lady."
"I am not a 'little lady'; I am a princess!" was the prompt and indignant reply. The queen, who had overheard the conversation, detained the man with gesture, and, turning to her spoiled little daughter, said:
"Tell the kind sailor that you are much indebted to him for his civility and that, although you are not a 'little lady' yet, you confidently hope to merit the title before long."

A Particular Point.

"In a case of this kind," said the lawyer, "there are many things to be investigated, and before I take the case there is one thing in particular that must be looked into."

"I presume," said the client, "that you refer to my pocketbook."—Indian-
